Lois Doty spoke about the need for members to be sure and sign the Waiver forms if they want to display any of their art work. This form is good for the term of membership, members will only have to sign one time.

June Bavinka mentioned that if you have paid your dues and have not received your new card it is probably that a monitoring verification for 2018 is needed. June would like to have an assistant to help her. Contact June if interested.

Mavis Gagne gave an update on the new monitoring program and the need for everyone to take the monitoring class. New members need to sign up for the orientation class which will also include the monitoring program. Instructors will have to find their own aides for their classes, workshop aides will be assigned. If you have signed up to be a monitor and can't do it: you are responsible for getting a replacement. A clip board is being circulated to sign up for "short" notice monitoring.

Peggy Simpson asked for 2 to 3 support people to help with the computer system and get familiar with it, contact Peggy if you can help. The club is also looking at a program for online registration and credit card payments.

Sherry Whitney gave an update on the SWAC annual art show and the few changes that are being made. A prospective is available on our web site.

Patti Hoffert reminded everyone where to find the information for classes. Weekly updates are found on Groupworks (formerly Mygrove.) Classes and workshops are found on the SWAC website. Patti will hold a workshop on January 24th at 9am for anyone having problems with Mygrove. Please bring your laptop, etc. with you.

Patti Hoffert, Donna Davis, Carol Stannard and Mike Biondo had Past President Karla Milinovich come to the podium to present her an orchid for all her work last year.

Ricki Nordmeyer asked everyone to please fill out the enrollment sheets and envelopes correctly and legibly. One check, one class, one member per envelope.

Tim Janicki and Roberta Plastino reviewed the hanging of members art work in the Kuntz classroom and the SCW Library. The Artist's Corner is changed monthly in the west classroom and will now show a bio of the artist. Members may sign up on the bulletin board by the back door for displaying your work.

Nancy Bonniwell is taking over the job of Librarian for the art club library after the "retirement" of Bill Seibert who has served for 20 years.

Val Anderson talked about changing the wording of "Demo" to Artist in Residence at the art show. She would like members to volunteer to be one of those "artists" ..

Tanya Lemma reminded all in attendance to vote for the People's Choice for the Mini Art Show displayed in the back of the room, also to remind everyone to bring something next month to show.

It does not have to be matted or framed.

Name tag winner was Trudy

A motion was made by Marcy?? to adjourn, 2nd by June Bavinka.

Respectfully submitted
